New Zones In Pahokee

PAHOKEE — After several brief but sharp verbal exchanges and a lengthy hassle over allowable repairs to structures not conforming to zoned districts, the City of Pahokee emerged with a new zoning ordinance at Monday night's City Council meeting.

Pahokee's zoning is now set up in eight categories: R (residential), I (industrial), P (professional), C (commercial), A (agricultural), and S (special). The new ordinance is identical to the one in the City of Palm Beach, with the addition of second hand merchandise (I industrial), for any lawful use except residential, unless residential structures are incidental to the conduct of commercial or industrial business on the premises, and A (agricultural), for "customary agricultural uses and structures", but prohibiting erection of agricultural buildings closer than 600 feet to state or county highways if such roads form the boundary of a residential district.

To a sizeable group of residents in the audience, Council President F. S. Parrish explained at the start of the session the reasons for the new zoning rules and cited the amount of work put in by the zoning commission and city officials to secure an equitable set of zoning provisions to remedy defects in the old ordinance and allow Pahokee the business and residential growth it needs.

CANAL POINT — Emphasis was placed upon the importance of Florida's research centers with the arrival here of Dr. Glenn Briggs, research coordinator of the agriculture research service.

Dr. Briggs is visiting federal and state research stations here, in Belle Glade, Orlando, and Gainesville to coordinate their programs.

Dr. Briggs noted that the United States is now one of the leading educational and research nations in the world, having largely replaced the United States as a center of foreign students under effective programs.

CEREMONIES OPEN CHURCH SUN.

BELLE GLADE — Services opening the new $165,000 Community Methodist Church at 9:30 Palm Sunday morning will highlight the beginning of a week-long joint observance of Holy Week and the completion of the new edifice.

Members will enter for the first time to worship when a ribbon stretched across the main entranceway will be severed by Vernie A. Boots, chairman of the building committee and longtime active member of the church.

Three services will be held opening day. The service at 9:30 will be the formal opening of the sanctuary, chapel and adjacent rooms and their presentation to the church. The regular morning worship service at 11 o'clock will offer a grand procession of the robes of the church and choir of 65 voices, consecration prayers, anthems, reception of 25 children and youth into the membership of the church, and a sermon by Dr. Clark M. Cotton, superintendent of the West Palm Beach district of the Methodist Church.

Plumage, in discussing chemical fertilizer, said that the cost of fertilizer to farmers has risen only 13 percent in recent years while costs of other farm supplies, tools and equipment has risen as much as 300 percent.

He emphasized that higher analysis fertilizers have aided farmers in producing crops with less labor per unit of production. In showing how farmers have been able to produce more and better crops, Plummer credited agricultural research in various fields.

Plummer stressed the use made in the Glades of secondary elements such as sulphur, manganese, copper, zinc and borax and indicated that the mudclarks require far different soil treatment from soil found in other areas of America.

In describing the chemical fertilizer industry, Plummer said that annual sales amount to a billion dollars in America from 120 plants capitalized at one and a half billion dollars.

NEW COMMUNITY Methodist Church as Belle Glade will be used for first time Sunday.

BELLE GLADE — If weather and market conditions continue favorable, Glades vegetable producers are heading for a record which may surpass the peak season of 1943-44, according to R. E. Hotard, Florida East Coast Railway agent.

As of Wednesday this week, the season was 931 cars ahead of shipments last year, with a seasonal total thus far of 7,112 compared to last year's of 6,181, Hotard said.

Cabbage has been very good so far, with about twice as much shipped as last season, and celery has been exceptionally good even with the increased volume in local as well as nationwide markets, according to Hotard.

Summary of the FEC carloadings for the week ending Mar. 30 follows:

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN NEEDS HELP IN GLADES

Only South Bay-Lake Harbor-Bean City of all the Glades communities filled its obligation to the American Red Cross during the fund drive for this year.

An urgent appeal was issued yesterday by Glades Red Cross officials for support and workers for the local campaign.

The dark picture, brightened only by the report of South Bay area Campaign Co-Chairmen Mrs. W. C. Allen and Mrs. A. B. Barnes that they are over their quota of $200 with a total collected to date of $211.89, looked like this as of yesterday:

PAHOKEE-CANAL POINT — Pahokee slow, Canal Point falling. With a goal of $1450, $945 is thus far collected, less than $100 of which is from Canal Point. The drive has been extended by General Chairman C. A. Batchelor.

BELLE GLADE-CHOSEN — The campaign has not begun, although Red Cross Month ended yesterday. Chairman Herman Close will appeal to the Lions Club at its meeting next Wednesday to take over the campaign. Belle Glade's quota is $2,500.

Negro divisions in the various communities are at work and show steady progress, according to reports.

Repair Of Storm-Tossed Plane Under Way At Canal Point Base

CANAL POINT — Repair crews from Palm Beach Air Force Base went to work yesterday afternoon on a disabled Air Force Grumman SA-16 Albatross banded "C" at Canal Point.

The Albatross was one of three assigned to maneuver at Lake Okechobee on Monday afternoon. Piloted by Captain Charles Smith, the Albatross had landed on the lake and was preparing to take off when Capt. Smith noted that one engine was running rough. Between approximately 3 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. unsuccessful efforts were made to clear up the engine trouble.

Meanwhile the other two planes on the practice flight returned to the PB Air Force Base.

Storm Hits Monday's unseasonable rain and wind storm struck about the time Capt. Smith had decided to make engine repairs. Waves reported at 10 ft. swept across the lake at the point about 3 miles WNW of St. Lucie Canal where the disabled Albatross with a crew of three besides the pilot, was riding out the storm. Winds reported at between 40 and 50 miles an hour.

WSWN To The Rescue Although the communication equipment aboard was in excellent condition, communications contact was lost during Monday evening. PB Air Force Base authorities do not know the exact location of the plane and alerted police and FHP officials of communities around the lake to be on the lookout for flares or signs of the craft. Finally at about 5 a.m. Tuesday Air Force officials told engineers at Radio Station WSWN their difficulty.

One Will Do

In the midst of the strike of Communications Workers of America against the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, presumably if we're going to mention both sides editorially, we should have two editorials.

But this will be one editorial about both factions, who while opposing, are keeping their heads at the local level.

The good sense of the Glades union members, who thus far have not been conned by out-of-area influences into acts of violence against company facilities is something for which we would like to compliment them.

The efficiency of the company representatives and union-eligible non-striking employees on duty at the main Glades switchboard is something for which we would like to compliment them. Especially notable was their record Monday, handling the largest number of calls in the history of the Belle Glade and Pahokee exchanges—1,689.

We hope that Glades members of the CWA will continue to keep their good sense and cool heads, and that the switchboard efficiency vital to our great vegetable industry will be maintained by the "company people."

YOU FIGURE IT OUT—Senator Spessard Holland has been named to head a new committee. His official notice read something like this: "You will be chairman of a subcommittee which may be known as the Commodity Credit Corporation Claims and Operations Subcommittee of the Senate Agriculture and Forestry Committee." The purpose of the subcommittee is to consider "innocent purchaser bills." If it is still hazy sounding, this means they are to investigate claims of innocent purchasers of "fungible goods" held in storage by the government.

NEW LATIN - AMERICAN PLAN—Congressman Bob Sikes had a gallery of Latin-American diplomats on hand the other day to hear him deliver a major address on our relations with our Latin-American neighbors. Sikes jumped on the State Department for dragging its feet in Latin-American problems and listed a seven point program that he says should be followed. A program about which we'll undoubtedly hear more before this session is over.

BASEBALL FOOT-NOTE—Last celebrity to accept Syd Herling's invitation to do a bit of spring training at Daytona Beach is Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas, who will take his wife and two girls along. Position he will be trying for? We predict it will be chief umpire—nothing less.

STOP-OVER SERENADE—When the prize winning Lake Worth High School band goes to Winchester, Va., to play in the Apple Festival parade, it will stop off in Washington for a concert on the Capitol steps. Apr. 28, Joe Luck will lead his 90 boys and girls through their paces and all members of Florida's delegation will watch.

Thank goodness I have one of my own.
A Washington Correspondent, that is.

For it is with the aid of my very own personal correspondent that I have been receiving a direct flow of reports on the squirrel situation in Washington.

I certainly would hate to be President, with the hue and cry that arises over everything that goes on at the White House from the slam of a door to the stroke of a nine-iron in the back yard.

By now, of course, there isn't a man, woman, child, or dog alive who doesn't know that every nut in Washington got in to the act when the people at the White House sent the squirrels from the President's putting green.

Han't been anything like it since a previous tenant decided to throw a squirrel over the balcony overlooking the South Portico of the big house on Pennsylvania Ave.

In addition to what little news we've had down here about the Squirrel War, my correspondent sends me a list of sidelights on the big battle.

The traps that catch the squirrels so that they could be bused off to some wooded region have been abandoned. But this hasn't lessened other efforts of fox squirrel enthusiasts.

An electronics expert suggested the use of high-pitched sound, something like "ugh," to drive the squirrels. It failed. Then the Army Signal Corps put together a tape recording of the dog-whistle sounds, to scare off the squirrels. It failed.

Then the Army Signal Corps put together a tape recording of the dog-whistle sounds, to scare off the squirrels. It failed. Then the Army Signal Corps put together a tape recording of the dog-whistle sounds, to scare off the squirrels. It failed.

A freshman (and that's an understatement) Senator from the region has thus far accumulated $100,000 for his fund to build a squirrel-proof fence around the Presidential putting green.

A group of school girls shelled 80 pounds of nuts to send to the besieged White House squirrels. The parks director in New York paid a dollar and a wire: "Believe squirrels should be protected from fast-rolling golf balls."

The Senator told the National Women's Democratic Club that it "shows a lot about this administration" that he has discovered through research in the Library of Congress that every President in history has had squirrels alone but "mentioned an affection for them."

Anyhow, Correspondent Mary Elizabeth Nichols, in Washington, finishes her report with "The latest word is that news has gotten out that the squirrels are eating the magnolia blossoms... in the meantime the tax bill is dead in the Senate and Yalta lives again in the State Dept."

DASHEEN? IT GROWS, BUT NONE HERE!

The one vegetable most evasive to promotion by Florida agriculture today is the dasheen, a potato-like tuber which has the nutty flavor of the chestnut. The majority of truck farmers and home gardeners have never heard of it yet it is a profitable specialty in the food industry and is grown quite extensively in parts of Nassau County, northeast Florida, for the Latin American and Oriental trade in New York City and a few communities elsewhere.

The dasheen has been raised successfully in experimental plots at the Central Florida Station in Brooksville, Florida. Grower and Rancher Magazine says in its April issue, but never at the Potato Investigations Laboratory at Hastings, although suitable seed is being sought for trials there.

SOUTH BAY—The PTA will meet Monday night at the school auditorium at 8. There will be a panel discussion. Questions were chosen by the PTA executive board and teachers and will be answered by members of the Board of Education—Thurmond Knight, Henry Earwood and Howell Watkins. Delegates to the district meeting held in Vero Beach will give a report.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 7 Medical Expenses and Other Deductions

(This is one of a series of articles on income tax changes. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Florida Institute of Certified Public Accountants.)

Taxpayers with heavy medical expenses in 1954 get a big break under the new tax law.

In the first place, certain sick benefits are not even counted as income. This was true before in the case of insured plans, but now applies to benefits from the uninsured employer as well. Here's what you can receive free of tax from your employer or his insurance company based on an injury or sickness:

1. Payment for medical expenses.
2. Payment for permanent injury.
3. Disability for injury or sickness.
4. Payments under Workmen's Compensation act.
5. Payment up to $100 a week for loss of wages while you are absent due to injury or sickness, except that the first week's pay is taxable unless you are absent due to an injury or sickness hospitalized for at least one day.

Medical and Dental Deductions. Using the long form and itemizing your deductions you can now deduct more than you could under the old law. First you add up your expenses for medicine and subtract the amount of your medical and dental bills you have paid, transportation (but not living expenses) for medical treatment away from home, and medical insurance premiums.

From this total you must subtract any benefits received from your medical insurance and, unless you are 65 or over, 3% (instead of the old 5%) of your adjusted gross income. This will give you the amount of your medical and dental deduction. It cannot be any more, however, than the maximum based on your exemptions.

This maximum has been raised to $2,000 per exemption (except those for old age and blindness) up to $5,000 for a head of household or on a joint return.

Charity Made Easier. There is still the 3% limit on charitable contributions in general, but you can take a deduction for an additional 10% of your income contributed to religious, educational, charitable, or scientific organizations, as well as any "religious, educational, scientific, literary or educational" organization.

Taxes and Interest Paid. In general you can deduct taxes you have paid for yourself or a member of your household, except to the federal government. You can't deduct "hidden" sales taxes (not separately stated) on the purchase of new automobiles, dog licenses, water supply or auto, inspection fees.

Interest paid by you on mortgages and on loans is deductible. Don't forget you can deduct collateral loans, personal loans and loans against your life insurance policy that may help you if you purchased a new life insurance policy. Formerly you could deduct interest only if it were separately stated. Now you can deduct the amount of any "carrying charge" up to 6% of the face of the mortgage.

Fire and Storm Damage. Another type of deduction is the casualty loss. If your home, car, or other property is damaged by fire, storm, flood, lightning, explosion or freezing—or if any of your property was stolen—your loss not covered by insurance is deductible. See the official instructions for the method of claiming your loss.

Additional Information. Be sure to read the official instructions. You can also get help from the IRS. Write to the nearest office or consult only qualified advisers.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

By Sen. George Smathers

WASHINGTON: A few days ago, the nation—and perhaps the world—was aroused by the suggestion of Senator Walter George that the heads of government of the major powers of the world meet to try to settle the "Cold War" issues in Europe.

Subsequent to the appearance of this stimulating idea in the headlines, I talked several times with Senator George who is chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee. As a matter of fact he appeared on radio and television with us in discussing the issue. What appears to me most important about this suggestion coming from the nation's Elder Statesman is that it places the Communist-Soviet government on the defensive, and conveys to the world that the people of the United States desire peace. I think, too, Senator George spoke out at this time to relieve some of the embarrassment to this nation brought on when the butterfingers State Department fumbled the Yalta papers.

NEW LEASE? FOR TARPON SPRINGS While Florida as a whole has been growing and enjoying prosperity, economic troubles have plagued the picturesque city of Tarpon Springs, the home of the American natural sponge.

As chairman of a Small Business subcommittee, I held an official inquiry during the past week in an effort to find out why government sponge purchases are being made in foreign markets, to the virtual exclusion of our own producers. Studies are still being carried on in the field. But I believe that already, as a result, a new lease on life is assured for this industry, with prospective return of better economic conditions in this fine Gulf Coast area.

FOR DR. REITZ: Florida will be better served by her University now that a decision has been reached regarding the Presidency. Dr. Wayne Reitz, in my opinion is an excellent choice for this post. He has been proved in agriculture and he not only is an experienced, trained man, but he has a broad background of knowledge of Florida and her needs. In complimenting the administration on its decision and Dr. Wayne, we should not overlook the outstanding performance of Dr. John S. Martin in the exacting capacity of acting president.

MILLION EVERGLADES VISITORS: We all were pleased last week when National Park Service Director Conrad Wirth gave to a Florida concern the concession contract for Everglades National Park. This group of outstanding business men and civic leaders are better equipped than any other competing group for the job of developing the park as a tourist attraction and protecting the unique naturalness of the area.

Of more importance to me,

PROGRESS IS SOMETHING NEW

Results of a conference called last fall at Washington University in St. Louis on science and human responsibility have been summarized by Huston Smith in the Saturday Review.

Possibly Smith's most interesting conclusions have to do with progress and man's hope. It is reported that the idea of progress is a child of the 16th century. In Europe as late as the 16th century there were few traces of men seeking to improve themselves for the sake of improvement. For example Buddhism makes no claim for betterment but accepts as doctrine man's lot in life as pre-ordained. Even in the Middle Ages man had no particular hope for anything except his daily lot in life. It was only in the 17th century that man saw a possibility of bending nature to his will and making natural forces work for him.

Men who inquired into how the world works, scientists, took a recognized place in the 17th century, why it works, philosophers and theologians, and with those for whom it worked, politicians, to work for the universal good of mankind. As the years of the 18th and early 19th centuries passed there was reason to believe that mankind was definitely making historical progress. The ward of the early 20th century dashed the optimism of many and now in the face of nuclear discoveries it is necessary to re-evaluate mankind's progress.

Scientists, philosophers and politicians meeting in St. Louis recognized that man both influences his culture and is influenced by it. However three considerations made evaluation of man's progress, at such a difficult task. The first concerns areas of life, called the value areas, such as achievement in the arts, where definition is difficult due to the fact that each generation must affirm its idea of, for example, beauty in its own terms. What one generation has accepted as beautiful may have no appeal to another generation.

The second consideration deals with the difficulty in trying however, was the prediction by Mr. Wirth that within ten years the park will draw a million visitors a year. Attendance in all national parks is increasing, as pointed out; since World War II, visitors have increased from 21 million to 48 million yearly, and by 1966, indications are the national parks will be drawing 75 millions annually.

DWARFISM UP IN FLA. CATTLE

GAINESVILLE — Florida's cattle industry is facing a serious problem of dwarfism. Dr. Marvin Koger of the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station declared that one of the most alarming features of this problem is that the incidence of dwarfism has increased in spite of natural selection.

The exact extent of dwarfism in the state cannot be determined from present information — but even optimistic estimates are not encouraging. Dr. Koger says that only a small percentage of our herds have not produced dwarfs. The owners of these herds have little assurance that the dwarf gene has not been introduced by recently purchased bulls.

Dwarfism is no longer only a problem of the purged cattleman. Dr. Koger points out that dwarfism is becoming common in commercial herds in many areas.

Dr. Koger thinks several factors have contributed to this situation. First, individuals or families carrying the dwarf gene have been popular and have spread it widely through the herds. Second, carriers of this gene seem to be preferred by cattlemen over noncarriers.

Dr. Koger recommends two steps to cut down on the incidence of dwarfism in beef cattle herds. First, select stock with the least possible chance of being carriers of the dwarf gene. This means using dwarf-free bulls whenever possible. Dwarf-free bulls are those from parents known to be free of this gene and tested bulls. Second, select the sex of the bulls and females used as being as far removed from dwarfism as possible.

If a bull sires 12 calves from dwarf-carrier cows or 24 calves from unproven daughters of known dwarf carriers, without producing a dwarf in his offspring, the chances are 99 in 100 that he is a noncarrier.

Dr. Koger adds that if you use only non-carrier bulls in your herd, no dwarf will be produced. The incidence of the dwarf gene in the herd will be reduced by one-half in each generation by this method.

On Good Friday there will be a three hour service of remembrance of the hours that Christ hung from the Cross. Between 12 noon and 3 p.m., the Methodist ministers around the lake will speak, using as their theme Christ's Seven Last Words.

Speakers at this service will be: Dr. Rembert Guy of Pahokee, Dr. Nicola Distefano of Lake Harbor, Dr. E. W. Palmer of Canal Point, Rev. H. Edward Garrett of Belle Glade and Dr. Cotton.

being installed throughout. The building houses, besides the sanctuary which seats 300, the choir which seats 90, the narthex, eight large Sunday School rooms, and a nursery for infants. Electronic chimes are being installed in the tower.

Colonial Interiors
The interiors of the sanctuary and the chapel are of Colonial design of grey tinted plaster, accented by white columns, rising along the walls. There are no posts to obstruct the view of the congregation toward the pulpit.

The new pews and chancel furniture are mahogany with white trim. The floors on the main floor are of a light-colored tile with rheostat control is a feature of the sanctuary and chapel. The building is air-conditioned for summer and winter.

Seating for a choir of 65 voices has been provided at the front of the sanctuary. The organ console is recessed at the center of the elevated area.

A balcony seating 85 is provided. The chapel, which will be used for youth meetings, prayer meetings, small weddings and funerals, has a divided chancel and is in many details a miniature of the main sanctuary.

The building committee which played a major role in the creation of the new church was composed of: Vernie A. Boots, chairman; D. C. DeHaven, W. J. Norris, William Graber, Mrs. Ruth Wedgworth.

The Florida Annual Conference of the Methodist Church appointed Rev. H. Edward Garrett to serve the Belle Glade church last June and he came here from a pastorate of more than four years in Avon Park. Last October, Rev. Mr. Garrett led the church in a renewed financial campaign to secure funds for resuming the completion of the partially-constructed building. A building fund campaign was launched under the direction of Frank C. Dooley, chairman of the finance committee, and construction on the building was resumed the first part of November.

Goodbye, Mr. Rat
The U.S. Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare recently announced a drive to "sample cans of wheat and institute legal action . . . against lots of wheat contaminated by rodents . . ."

An average of more than two rodent pellets per liquid pint will be sufficient to institute charges.

A new rodenticide recently developed will be of great value in avoiding this contamination and reducing the vast spoilage of foodstuffs, estimated to approximate an annual loss of a billion dollars. After fifteen months of laboratory and field experimentation, Pivalyn, a new water-soluble, anti-coagulant rodenticide, has just been released for general sales.

Developed and tested in cooperation with the Fish and Wildlife Service of the U.S. Dept. of Interior, this new product provides a sweetened liquid bait that kills rats and mice as they drink. Dissolved in plain water, it has been used under widely varying conditions with outstanding results.

on farms, in homes and industrial establishments. In one government-supervised test at a feed mill, Pivalyn produced 1,005 dead rats in a six-week period.

This water-soluble chemical has all the features of relative safety and high effectiveness typical of the anti-coagulant rodenticides. As a liquid bait, it takes advantage of the fact that rats require large quantities of water. Tests demonstrate that this sweetened liquid bait is preferred by rodents to plain water at a better than 10% ratio.

For dry cereal baits, it is available under the name of Pival. Pivalyn and Pival are being distributed by many makers of packaged pesticides and are available to both farm and urban users under prominent brand names.

How spiritual understanding of God brings freedom from the futility of materialism will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Unreality" at Christian Science services Sunday.

Selections to be read from the King James Version of the Bible will include the following from Jeremiah (25): "Thus saith the Lord, What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, and have walked after vanity, and are become vain?"

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following passage will be among those read: "The perfect Mind sends forth perfection, for God is Mind. Imperfect mortal mind sends forth its own reasonings, of which the wise man said, 'All is vanity' (239:29). 'The Golden Text is also from Jeremiah (41:4): 'O Jerusalem, wash thine heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved. How long shall thy vain thoughts lodge within thee?'"

BLUE HAWAII JR.-SR. THEME

BELLE GLADE — "Blue Hawaii" was the theme used when the juniors of Belle Glade High school entertained the seniors and their guests with a trip to the "Isle of Walkiki" as both classes enjoyed the annual junior-senior prom and the banquet which preceded the dance.

The Hawaiian motif was carried out in decoration, the program and menu at the banquet and the dance which followed. Guests were greeted at the door with the traditional lei ceremony. The entrance to the isle gave an enchanting view of blue skies, palms and a ballerina on the sands. Bamboo was used to enclose the gym where the dance was held. Pale blue crepe paper formed the blue skies.

A palm tree that leaned to form the orchestra pit and waist-high bamboo provided a fence in the rear of the building where guests were given the opportunity to rest and talk. Orchids and palms outlined a garden path to a table in the backdrop and the refreshment booth, was adequately hidden from view by bamboo and palms.

The program at the banquet was presented by the junior class. John Thompson served as toastmaster and introduced County Superintendent Howell L. Watkins who led the invocation. Principal Frank O. Hobson introduced the guests. The toast of welcome was given by Glenn Carraway, the response by Walter Mosely. Also taking part in the program were Janice Cole, Frances Sloan, Miss Miriam Najarian and Miss Viola Eassa. The theme song for the banquet was "Blue Hawaii" by Glen Del, and Alma Ann McClure sang "Blue Hawaii" and "Aloha Oe." Patsy Dooley led the hula to the tune of "Sweet Lullaby." Robert Willingham and Ann Henderson sang. Miss Najarian served as accompanist. Piano selections were played by Earl Skuee.

The grand march by the juniors and seniors was followed by a ballet "Make Believe" by Linda Hand. The Harmonettes composed of Ann Henderson, Glen Del, and Alma Ann McClure sang "Blue Hawaii" and "Aloha Oe." Patsy Dooley led the hula to the tune of "Sweet Lullaby." Robert Willingham and Ann Henderson sang. Miss Najarian served as accompanist. Piano selections were played by Earl Skuee.

Legionnaire Auxiliary For FHP On Way

TALLAHASSEE — Completion of the organization of a statewide group of Legionnaires to formulate the state's first auxiliary to the Florida Highway Patrol was announced this week.

Chosen Major-At-Large to work with those of the other six districts in the state, which are the same as districts of the Florida Highway Patrol, is Maj. Don Schoepel of Eustis, a former commander of the Legion in Ohio and a member of that state's auxiliary — first in the nation.

Plans were recently perfected at a meeting in Gainesville, after the patrol had assigned a cadre of officers and troopers here to help train the various field units of the auxiliary.
